COURSES IN NURSING

the State Board of Health will again give courses in home nursing and home sanitation to be included among the classes planned this summer for the Girls' canning clubs.

For the past two years the board has co-operated in this work by giving health and by making demonstration in the bedside care of patients. This year, when sufficient time can be allowed to use the microscope, the courses will be enlarged to demonstrate bacterial life.

As the girls attending these courses are usually between twelve and sixteen years, and are from the rural districts of Virginia, the demonstrations in nursing are believed by the board to be of practical value in showing the girls what can be done to prevent, as well as to treat, sickness in the home.

MOTHERS, DON'T TAKE ALCOHOL

Mertality Among Children of Mothers Who Drink Appalling-Non-Alcoholic Remedy Endorsed

The awful mortality among babies The awrul mortality among balls of drinking mothers and mothers who use alcohol is appalling, and recent figures show that 21 mothers lost 55.2 per cent of their 125 babies, whereas per cent of their 125 babies, whereas twenty-eight relatives of these same women drinkers who were non-users of alcohol lost only 23.3 per cent of their 125 children. 4.1 per cent of the babies that lived were epileptic, and the children of users of alcohol develop more slowly, and among the users of alcohol as mentioned above and called "moderate drinkers" (those who drank daily no more alcohol than corresponds to one glass of beer) about 4%.

The amount of alcohol in an ordinary glass of beer is little if any more than will be found in some doses of alcoholic remedies, and when the Ferrodine Chemical Corp. warns against the use of alcoholic iron remedies containing too much alcohol, the mothers, parents and physicians of families should note carefully on every bottle of medicine they buy the percentage of alcohol, which always appears by order of the government as a protection to the public.

order of the government as a protection to the public.

When one's system needs a tonic, and you feel tired, wornout and rundown, and the appetite, energy and vitality are at a low ebb, don't take alcohol, which has only a temporary effect upon the digestion and a detrimental effect on the kidneys, stomach, nerves, brain and liver. Take a natural, non-alcoholic iron (not a patent medicine) and tone up and stimulate the appetite and energy naturally and permanently. permanently.

Acid Iron Mineral (natural iron) may be secured at any drug store in either fifty-cent or dollar size bottles for home use. It is powerful and goes from two to ten times as far as other and weaker iron preparations, and, unlike many, it does not injure stomach, cause constipation or blacken the teeth.
